I'm Shreyas Bagal, a Pune-based digital marketing professional specialising in social media strategy, performance advertising, and content-driven brand growth. Over the last three years, I've helped clinics, ventures, and consulting firms move from scattered presence to measurable traction.

My approach combines creative content with analytical rigour — A/B testing every creative, optimising every funnel, and building social ecosystems that convert attention into conversations, and conversations into clients.

"Good marketing isn't loud. It's the quiet compounding of the right message, in the right place, at the right time."
